

INITIAL QUOTA
IN FIRST 3,000

Common of Officials Doing the Drafting Today.

PREPONDERANCE OF HIGH NUMBERS

Among First 2,000 Names Makes Estimate Difficult.

Majority of those Who Must Serve in National Army Meets Fate in First 3,000 Names Announced Today.

Washington, July 20.—That approximately the first 1,370,000 men who will form the initial quota from which the first 3,000 names of the army of 687,000 soldiers will be selected, were announced in the first 3,000 names drawn was the opinion of officials at 3:15 this afternoon. The draft, which was proceeding slowly, will not be completed until well into Saturday morning. It will, however, show the position of every man of the 10,000,000 liable for military service.

The preponderance of high numbers among the first 3,000 is impossible to tell exactly whether the initial 3,000 had furnished sufficient for the first call, but the department officials said that it undoubtedly had in nearly all districts. In some districts, however, where registration was low and the quota comparatively large, it was said it would be possible that the quota could not be reached until the drawing was more than half completed. The vast majority, however, met their fate in the first 3,000 names. It was estimated that only a number below 3,000 "knocked out" a total of nearly 4,537 men.

Late this afternoon, General Crowder announced that the draft will continue until all numbers have been recorded.

RUSSIAN GUARD
HURLED TO DEATH

Crumbles in Repulse Under German Crown Prince.

Paris, July 20.—Using picked troops from the Prussian guard, the German crown prince made a furious effort during the night to recapture the dominant positions from the French along the Aisne river.

In the sector of Calonne plateau and Valenciennes the German assaults were especially violent, but all were repulsed except at one point where the Germans penetrated trenches over a width of 600 yards, the war office announced today.

The German losses were tremendous. On the Meuse river—Virdun front—artillery duels are raging.
